Stocks held gains and closed modestly higher helped by banks after a government think tank announced little chance of bad debt crisis. Military Bank (MBB, +2.8%) and Vietinbank (CTG, +1.9%) led the sector-wide rally in banks after the Central Institute of Economic Management (CIEM) under the Ministry of Planning & Industry said it expects zero risk of another bad debt crisis due to rising non-performing loans from the coronavirus. Sacombank (STB, +7.0%) was limit high on expectations it will be added to Van Eck Vietnam ETF next Friday after the new basket of stocks is announced this Friday. Kinh Bac City Development (KBC, +6.8%) also hit limit up when Vinatex-Tan Tao Investment – a sister company – registered to boost its stake. Industrial park shares outperformed again on hopes for more FDI, with Sonadezi Long Thanh (SZL, +3.6%) up and Tan Tao Investment & Industry (ITA, +7.0%) extending its limit-high performance to a sixth session on takeover speculation. Masan Meatlife (MML, -0.4%) and Dabaco (DBC, -6.9%) both fell on news that the government reduced import taxes on pork to pull down domestic pork prices. Foreign investors were net buyers, focusing on the Diamond ETF (FUEVFVND, +0.7%), Vinhomes (VHM, -0.1%) and Nam Long Group (NLG, +5.4%).

Futures closed higher and outpaced the VN30 cash index as local short covering into the auction allowed the basis to close in contango. The basis opened at minus 7.52 basis points and saw another day of trading in a tight range between minus 4–5 basis points on local intraday long positions in the morning session. Weakness in the VN 30 cash index in the afternoon session caused locals to turn to sellers and short June contracts before resilience in the cash market triggered short covering into the auction and pushed the basis to positive 0.19 basis points at the close. Foreigners were evenly balanced for most of the day but turned to active net sellers on the front contract when the basis began to strengthen in the afternoon. Trading volumes were healthier on the day.

Overly optimistic guidance but new order momentum

Overly aggressive guidance based on questionable USD60 Brent & 7% cash dividend

— Management released 2020E guidance for shareholders' approval at VND640 billion for earnings or down by 20.8% YoY on revenue of VND15,000 billion or down by 12.0% YoY. This compares to recent consensus earnings at about VND530–570 billion and the overly optimistic outlook is largely due to an unexplained base case scenario for Brent averaging USD60. Brent prices have averaged about USD38.40 so far this year are unlikely to rise fast enough to average USD60 as economies are only slowly reopening after the coronavirus. Aside from the questionable base case for oil, one positive development was management's confidence that main projects will be able to contribute more to 2020E profitability. This bodes well for the Sao Vang-Dai Nguyet and Gallaf - Al Shaheen projects and indicates both are on schedule to enter the peak & finishing process phase this year, which potentially offers USD100 million in additional revenue. On-time completion of these two projects should allow greater opportunity for PVS to bid for an estimated VND3 billion in new orders for projects planned over the next six years according to the consensus. Moreover, management plans to declare a VND700-per-share cash dividend for 2019 performance. Shareholders will meet on June 24.

Order book gaining momentum in 2020E but margins may be squeezed

— The new order pipeline remains promising, with PVS well-positioned to win several international orders – especially, the Gallaf batch 2 (Qatar), Pecean FPSO topside module (Ghana) and Fenix (Argentina) projects – as well as important local orders – including, Block B, Blue Whale and the Nam Du U Minh Engineering Procurement Construction (EPC) contract – but low oil prices and competition are likely to squeeze margins. Moreover, PVS already finished the Front End Engineering Design (FEED) process for the Nam Du U Minh project in 2019, which should open up the bidding for an additional USD250 million in new orders.

No further details on 1Q's incident with the JV for Floating Storage Offloading MV12

— Technical issues at the JV for the Floating Storage Offloading (FSO) MV12 led to provisions that caused equity method gains from joint ventures to fall by 82% in 1Q. Management has yet to follow up with any further details or whether the technical issues have been resolved. Other JVs for FPSO/FSO operations (Floating Production Storage Offloading/Floating Storage Offloading) continue to run normally, with the investment process for FSO Sao Vang Dai Nguyet still on schedule to go online in 2021E.

Fourth treasury sale; free float increases to 10%

PLX announces fourth tranche of treasury share sell down

— PLX registered to sell another 15 million treasury shares between June 16 and July 15 or 1.3% of shares outstanding and 14% of current free-float. After selling this tranche remaining treasuries would be 88 million shares or 7.3% of outstanding shares and 82% of current free float. Implications include: 1) creating near-term overhang on PLX shares as the volume of treasury shares represents about 15-trading days of stock (unless cleared by block trades in the put-through market); but 2) will boost the thin free-float to 10.0% from 8.9%; and 3) allow the company to book about VND543 billion in gains to shareholders' equity or a 2.5% increase to 1Q's book value per share as the average purchase prices for these shares was VND10,600 per share.

Proceeds from treasury sale adds to PLX's cash pile & healthy Price Stabilization Fund

— Despite 1Q's negative operating cash flow, PLX is sitting on a large VND15 trillion cash pile or 27% of total assets vs VND343 billion in debt due this year. Moreover, contributions to the Price Stabilization Fund to offset sharp rises in retail pump prices are at healthy levels at VND2.3 trillion. Management will likely use these extra cash resources to continue the acquisition of existing gas stations as well as opening new locations to expand the network of directly-owned gas stations.

Treasury shares a legacy from 2011's privatization & boosts free float

— We view any treasury sale positively to resolve legacy issues from the company's privatization and additional boost to free float. The current treasury sell down has its roots in the company's privatization in 2011 when the government provided PLX with VND2.8 trillion in receivables to make up for a capital shortfall just prior to its quasi-listing. The spinout of PLX from the government was conducted at an asset value of VND 7.3 trillion vs the original VND10.2 trillion asset value due to falling land prices and the differential of VND2.8 trillion was resolved by: 1) VND2.4 trillion in suspended dividends as the government gave up cash dividends between 2012–2016 to pay down its receivables obligation; and 2) VND350 billion in redeemable preferred shares that were ultimately converted to common shares and bought into treasury shares. PLX originally issued 155 million redeemable preferred shares in 2016 as part of a bonus share offering that the company would redeem at VND10,000 par value plus an additional VND600 per share by the end of the year. Minorities received payment for redeemed shares but the government's preferred shares were converted to common shares. The government, however, used these common shares for payment in kind against the claim on the receivables, with PLX taking these shares into treasury.

Shareholders approve cautious 2020E earnings

2020E earnings down 30% YoY as lower incomes hit spending on discretionary items

— Shareholders approved PNJ's revised 2020E guidance for a 30% YoY drop in earnings to VND832 billion and 15% YoY decrease in sales to VND14,485 billion. Management warned that consumption patterns may still be impacted by the coronavirus as lower disposable incomes force many consumers to tighten discretionary spending. Moreover, the COVID-19 pandemic has also delayed the company's export activities since the start of the year. Shareholders also approved PNJ's plan to issue more than 2.5 million ESOP shares at VND20,000 per share for key management sometime this year (the BOD will decide on the specific date at a later time).

PNJ will continue to expand the domestic network despite weaker consumption

— The company will continue to expand the domestic retail network despite the negative impact from the coronavirus. Management seems well aware that the expansion into the weak consumer environment may depress same-store-sales in the near term but opted to continue to strengthen the strategic footprint of its stores and to grow overall topline sales. PNJ will simultaneously open nine new stores on June 11 to bring its total number of stores to 360 locations. PNJ Watch currently has 44 stores but will reach 54 stores by the end of June. PNJ will also strengthen its multi-channel sales network to gain market share in the post-pandemic era with the launch of an e-commerce platform.

Will break ground on the second factory in Long An in 2020E

— PNJ will begin construction of the second factory this year that will be located in the Long An region and away from any large urban center due to environmental concerns on the plated products that the new facility will produce. The current factory located in a residential area of Ho Chi Minh City will focus primarily on the premium segment to reduce the reliance on imported products and thereby reduce import taxes for the company. PNJ's chairwoman stated that each year PNJ imports approximately 0.5 tons of goods that are subject to the 35% special consumption tax or equivalent to VND100 billion per year.
